

Anti-Bullying Policy and Procedure (GWHR84)

This policy has been created by students at Route2Work College. All the words are taken directly from learners. The policy is a working document and will be regularly reviewed by students and staff. There will be an accompanying display board which students will manage in order to share the main points of the policy and highlight support and actions for anyone involved in bullying.

How should students feel at college?

- Safe
- Secure
- Happy
- Have friendships
- Respected by others around them
- Relaxed
- Treated with dignity
- Confident
- Heard
- Not alone
- Always have someone to talk to

How can bullying be prevented at college?

- Clear understanding of the rules (1.1 Code of Conduct). Expectation is that everyone has to follow these rules
- Encourage learners to talk about any problems they may be having
- Empower learners to stand up for themselves and others
- Encourage an ethos of 'defenders' directly challenge anything you feel is wrong or report to staff
- Raise awareness of bullying at college
- Different ways to report bullying – face to face, email or text, phone call – key message is that any concerns or worries be reported as soon as possible

How should bullying be dealt with at college?

Date of Issue: September 2021
Review Date: September 2022

- Learners can talk to support staff, tutors, programme lead about any worries
- Learners should report any worries to parents or carer
- Staff should take any report of bullying as serious (1.2 logged as Safeguarding report) and should aim to get to the bottom of the problem and sort it out
- Consequences for bullying
- Challenge bullying (by being a defender) develop bully's empathy and help them think about how the target is feeling
- Support for everyone involved
- Personalised support for those involved
- Designated anti-bullying leader

How can students and staff create a happy and safe environment?

- Encourage and nurture friendships
- Opportunities to discuss feelings and problems (group work and one to one)
- Tolerance – be civil even if you don't get along
- If issues arise talk to the person
- Be friendly
- Bullying is not permitted on or off premises
- Include everyone
- Develop respect for others
- Have a 'safe' person you can go to
- Staff are approachable and available for chat
- Avoid big group chats (e.g. WhatsApp) and encourage more face to face socialising

Negative comments on people's post over time e.g. laughing emoji or tagging a post with negative comment e.g. 'look at this freak'. Sexting people private messages, making videos and sending them to others and making fun of it.

Roles and responsibilities

Students

All students have a responsibility to report and help stop bullying. Students should report all types of bullying, including on social media (they could screen shot messages). All students have responsibility to follow the rules and give respect. Students should review policy – do this through group meetings. Have display in college with information about anti-bullying and policy managed by students. Students should not get unnecessarily involved in situation as this may make situation worse. Don't listen to bullies, ignore rumours be a defender not a bystander.

Staff

Welfare of students is most important. Responsibility is to resolve bullying and isolate bully. To find out why bullying happens. Talk to the person getting bullied and reassure them they are safe in college. Support them to stand up for themselves. Take bullying reports seriously and listen to everyone involved, challenge any form of bullying. Be unbiased, sympathise, find solutions and inform parents/carers. Support learners to review the policy. Sessions around anti-bullying covering all areas e.g. homophobia, racism etc. Reinforce policy.

Parents/Carers

Talk to your young person about what's going on. Ring up College with any concerns. Come into college for meetings, support young person to follow any behaviour plans.

Leadership

Decisions on exclusions. Create behaviour plan (1.3).

Statement of procedure

- Any type of bullying should be reported immediately to anti-bullying leader or member of staff
- Reports of bullying will be taken seriously and will be address straight away
- Staff or anti-bullying leader should aim to talk to all those involved and take immediate steps to ensure target/victim feels safe and supported
- Staff should investigate report of bullying and consider all involved (ring leader, assistant, reinforces, bystander, defender, victim/target).
- Staff should ring parents/carers to inform them of report and gather more information
- Bullying is a hate crime and will be logged as a safeguarding report
- Goal is to find a solution to end the bullying and restore equilibrium. This could involve variety of actions e.g. one to ones, group tasks, PSHE sessions, home visits, police involvement, reconciliation meetings.
- Be aware that increased support may be needed for the bully as well as the victim/target
- Working with all involved appropriate consequence should be agreed. Final decision made by Head teacher.
- Situation should be reviewed until positive outcome has been achieved. This would close the safeguarding log.

Review of policy

Outcome of policy should be clear to see, if bullying is reduced then students will appear happier and there would be less reports of bullying.
